Public Health England

Annual Conference 2019

Pre-conference workshops and plenary session – Monday 9 September

Time	Session
12:00-19:45	Registration

Time
14:00-17:00	Workshop 1. Evaluability assessment: assessing whether policies are set up to do what they are designed to do	Workshop 2. Strengthening communities	Workshop 3. Behavioural science: Learn to use the latest tools designed for local public health professionals	Workshop 4. Doing user-centred design and research in public health	Workshop 5. Accessing, using, and applying evidence	Workshop 6. Means, ends, and ethics in the 'culture of health' agenda FACULTY OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Time	Session
17:15-18:15	Plenary session
18:30 -20:30	Dinner
19:45-21:30	Quiz

Programme is subject to change.

May 2019

Public Health England

Annual Conference 2019

Programme summary – Tuesday 10 September

	Enabling healthier lives	Tackling health inequalities	The best science and research to keep the public safe	Innovation for a better public health system	Wider environment and Faculty of Public Health sessions
08:00-09:20	Registration and coffee
09:30-09:55	Welcome address by Duncan Selbie, Chief Executive, Public Health England
09:55-10:20	Opening keynote address
10:30-11:30	Air pollution: emerging evidence on health effects and potential interventions to create healthier environments	The impact of gambling on public health in England	Identifying and responding to major incidents and emerging public health threats	Social media and young people: friend or foe?	Four nations. A unique insight into the UK public health systems and workforce
11:30-11:55	Coffee, ePoster and exhibition viewing
12:00-13:00	Air pollution: emerging evidence on health effects and potential interventions to create healthier environments. Discussion	Reducing risk and inequalities for mothers and babies	System response to managing major incidents – learning from experience for the future	The theory and reality of complex systems working in improving the public's mental health	Building public health capacity globally
13:00-13:35	Lunch, ePoster and exhibition viewing
13:40-14:05	Discussion sessions: Key learning points from the morning	ePoster and exhibition viewing
14:15-15:15	Reduction and reformulation: two years of monitoring sugar reduction	The Healthy Child Programme: giving children the best start in life for the next ten years	Understanding the impact of antimicrobial resistance globally and nationally	Double your quits: e-cigarettes and smoking cessation	Role of politics in achieving public health objectives
15:25-16:25	Taking a whole systems approach to tackling obesity, inactivity and other lifestyle risk factors	Accelerating reductions in smoking: treating tobacco dependency as a system-wide priority	Antimicrobial resistance: taking action together as a local system	Predictive prevention: how digital technology can be used to offer precise and targeted health advice	Improving health impact with dwindling resources: What is possible?
16:25-16:45	Tea, ePoster and exhibition viewing
16:55-18:00	Jacqueline de Rojas, President, techUK, in conversation
19:30-23:30	Conference dinner (for those staying on campus)

For further information please visit www.phe-conference.org.uk

Programme is subject to change.

May 2019

Public Health England

Annual Conference 2019

Programme summary – Wednesday 11 September

	Enabling healthier lives	Tackling health inequalities	The best science and research to keep the public safe	Innovation for a better public health system	Wider environment and Faculty of Public Health sessions
07:45-08:45	Breakfast discussion tables (for those staying on campus)
08:00-09:00	Registration and coffee
09:00-10:00	Who is in it for the long haul? Why don't we commit to prevention?	Place-based working to improve outcomes for children and young people	What have we learnt so far from the application of whole genome sequencing?	Supporting the use of research evidence in public health decision-making and tackling the challenges	Developing the future public health workforce
10:10-10:40	Keynote address: The Rt Hon Matt Hancock MP, Secretary of State for Health and Social Care
10:40-11:05	Coffee, ePoster and exhibition viewing
11:10-12:10	Place-based commissioning for health outcomes	Place and people: the role of place in enabling inclusive growth	How can data about people and their genes be used to improve population health?	Getting evidence and data used in practice: knowledge to action	Developing an approach to psychological support and community resilience after natural disasters and emergency situations
12:20-12:55	Primary Care Networks; the building blocks for preventing ill health	Public mental health research from the NIHR School for Public Health Research	The lazy language of 'lifestyles'	Using digital innovation to change health behaviours at scale	How do we operationalise planetary health?
12:55-13:30	Lunch, ePoster and exhibition viewing
13:30-13:55	Discussion sessions: Key learning points from the morning		ePoster and exhibition viewing
14:10-15:10	Behavioural science transformation: supporting local professional communities to facilitate behaviour change	The NHS and public health: new ways of working on prevention and health inequalities	Public health science for the future	Artificial intelligence and public health. Opportunities, risks and spotting the hype	Future trends for the public's health
15:20-16:00	Citizens UK: Building power to tackle health inequalities - Carina Crawford-Khan, Head of Growth, Citizens UK
16:00	Tea and departure

For further information please visit www.phe-conference.org.uk

Programme is subject to change.

May 2019